

Thank you for giving me a friend for life

When Jonathan was eight, his father died and he really needed a friend. Big Brothers Big Sisters matched him with Joel. This friendship meant so much to Jonathan that he decided to give back in the same way. Today he is a Big Brother to Marcus, who now has the one thing he truly needed, a friend he can count on for life.

Because of you, caring mentors can help children grow into happy, successful adults. And United Way, along with 250 agencies and programs, is able to help one in three people that live in our community. Thank you.
